History

Poland became a member of the International Ice Hockey Federation on January 11, 1926.

In 2011 the Polish women's national team was for the first time involved in IIHF World Championships competition.

In the Division V the team made a big surprise by winning the first place in Division V (31st place) and was promoted to the Division IV for the 2012 Women's World Championships where the Poland women won and once again were promoted to Division IIA. In 2017 Poland competed in Division I Group A for the first time and finish 6th in Division IB, relegated to Division IIA, but this was there highest finish at the world championships 20th overall.
