History

United States became a member of the International Ice Hockey Federation on April 26, 1920
The United States has been one of the most dominant women's hockey teams in international play – second only to Canada – having won gold or Silver in every major tournament with the exception of the 2006 Winter Olympics, where they captured bronze.
In 1998, the Women's Olympic Hockey Team was named the USOC Team of the Year. In 2015, the Women's National Ice Hockey Team was named the USOC Team of the Month, in April.
